Dangerously Stabbed.

Special to the Gazette.

BELDEN, TEX., Aug. 3 .- This morning about 4 o'clock, just before the arrival of the northbound passenger train, a difficulty arose between N. R. and J. M. Kenney, brothers, formerly of Bowie county, and Thomas Bell of our town. The Kenney brothers stabbed Bell in five places, and his recovery is doubtful. One of the cuts punctured the lower part of the lungs. Kenney and brother had an examining trial and their bonds were fixed at $3000 apiece, which they failed to make here, and were taken into Bowie county to try and make them.

Not Pleasant to the Republicans. KELLER, TEX., Aug. 3, 1889.

To the Gazette. Mr. J. D. Ledford (Democrat) of Keller, having secured the indorsement of the chairman of the Republican executive committee over his competitor, Mr. C. W. Smith (Independent), seems to create some enthusiasm among Democrats. It is by no means a sweet morsel to Republicans and the opposition to Democracy.

Feeling assured that most of the ranches in Southern Texas were supplied with about all needed water supplies, I have opened a house here in Fort Worth, with ample capital and the best goods to be had and competent workmen. The Kelipse Windmills are well-known in Northwest Texas. The capital syndicate alone having one 10foot, thirty-five 12-foot, thirty-two 14foot and eleven 16-foot. I do not pro-pose to advocate the demerits of any other make of windmills. They are like the Irishman's whisky-all good; but some, I think, better than others, and my company stands ready as well as the well known Fairbank's scale company to make good any failure of the Eclipses Windmill coming up to all we claim for it. These windmills have been in use in Texas for years, thousands of them, too, and not one but has given satisfaction that I have had erected.
